ABOUT + CONTACT

Founded in 2010, Ehmerican Multimedia emerged to meet the rising demand for online video content, celebrity-branded media and social driven storytelling.

Originally from Toronto and now based in Los Angeles, founder Robb Dipple began his career in Canada's dynamic music video scene before expanding into a wide spectrum of multimedia services — ultimately specializing in artist focused content and branded content.

With a client forward approach, our creative team is deeply invested in every project, working closely to capture the personality, tone and message behind each unique story.

Our flexible production model allows us to scale from intimate shoots to full-scale campaigns, always delivering a polished, professional experience that exceeds client expectations.
